FOR EVERY PROFESSIONAL BOOKMAN

BOOKMAN'S WEEKLY

READ AB and keep in touch with what's going on in the specialist book field throughout the world. Discover the many services of AB, its unique departments, trade news and reviews, book notes and bibliographical information and a special feature article each week on some aspect of the world of books.

BOOKSELLERS have found that AB's complete coverage of 8,000 professional bookmen (9-10,000 for special issues) brings them greatest returns on ads, at lowest possible cost. Sales tips and new promotion ideas are valued by the specialist and antiquarian book trade.

LIBRARIANS as well as collectors, editors, research workers in the literary field — all professional bookmen — look to AB for important news and reviews of out-of-the-way books and events, nowhere else available.

PUBLISHERS of better books, scholarly and specialist works and items for collectors, can take advantage of this concentrated audience of professional book buyers at low display rates.

BOOKMAN'S YEARBOOK

AB ANNUAL for all bookmen — dealers, publishers, librarians and collectors. Two volumes published each year, loaded with valuable reference features on a variety of book world subjects, the indispensable O.P. Market, Reference Directory of Specialist and Antiquarian Booksellers, separate Directory of Trade Services, and listings of book publishers, university presses, private presses, dealer-publishers, specialist houses and auction houses.

THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA

The Society was founded in 1904. Membership is open to all who share its aims and interests in the promotion of bibliographical research and publication.

Membership is available at a cost of $20.00 per year, which includes a subscription to the quarterly Papers of the Society, as well as substantial discounts for the Society's monographic publications.

The BSA sponsors an annual short-term (one or two months) fellowship program, in support of bibliographical inquiry as well as research in the history of the book trades and publishing history. Details of the program are available from the Executive Secretary.

The Papers of the Bibliographical Society of America (PBSA) publishes contributions dealing with books and manuscripts, in any field, which treat them as artifacts of historical evidence, as well as studies of the printing, publishing, and allied trades.

For further information, address the BSA Executive Secretary, P. O. Box 397, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10163, U. S. A.

THE BOOK COLLECTOR

For thirty years now, THE BOOK COLLECTOR has come to be regarded as the most authoritative, interesting and lively journal devoted to the interests of collectors, bibliographers, antiquarian booksellers and custodians of rare books.

THE BOOK COLLECTOR counts among its contributors the leading experts on both sides of the Atlantic on all aspects of bibliophily, from medieval manuscripts to modern first editions. It is copiously illustrated.

THE BOOK COLLECTOR, like all specialist journals, depends for its main support on its subscribers and wishes to add to their number.

THE BOOK COLLECTOR is published quarterly in March, June, September, December

D 8000 Muenchen 2, Karolinenplatz 5a, West Germany

Greetings,

The SPECIALITY of the house is old, rare, and/or significant children's books. To explain "significant": a writer or illustrator who has influenced the development of children's literature. Great illustrators are irresistible! Wanted to buy and/or sell.

For my book collector's registry please tell me the AUTHOR, ILLUSTRATOR, EDITION, and PUBLISHER you want. Is the dust jacket necessary?

It's not easy to find first class children's books whereas ex libris are available. Since postage is tyrannical please be specific.

In my compulsive quest for children's books I have bought MANY first editions in other categories: photography, Christmas, etc. Your WANT LISTS and CATEGORIES are very, very welcome!

Happy Hunting,

H.M.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Volume 88 of American Book Prices Current has been prepared by a team of editors highly experienced in the field of rare books and manuscripts. As its users know, ABPC is not just a transcribed record of titles and prices, copied unquestioningly from the season's auction catalogues. It is, on the contrary, the only work in English in which every listing of printed material has been checked as to title, format, date of publication, edition, and limitations. Bindings are described, with condition when relevant, and whenever possible maps and plates in books are verified. Moreover, sales of autographs and manuscripts are reported. Because of this, ABPC is an essential tool for buying, selling and evaluating books, serials, autographs, manuscripts, broadsides, and maps, based on actual figures realized at auction. In the words of a reviewer in The Times Literary Supplement, it is "an accurate, indispensable tool for the antiquarian bookseller and collector." And, in addition to meeting the need for a dependable guide in determining the value of old and out-of-print books, ABPC serves as a reference work and as an aid to scholars in locating printed works and manuscripts of all centuries, from the earliest years to the present.

American Book Prices Current is composed of two parts. Part I, Autographs & Manuscripts, includes original illustrations for printed books, documents, letters, typescripts, corrected proofs, signed photographs, and signatures, as well as manuscripts. Part II, Books, includes broadsides, single-sheet printings, maps and charts, and uncorrected proof copies of books.

Entries are listed alphabetically by author whenever possible, by title when the author's name is unknown, or by Private Press and Club, printer, or publisher headings if such are the associations which attract the collector. In general, illustrated books are listed under the author of the text. Subject headings such as England, Maps & Charts, Hebrew Books and Miniature Books or those for individual U.S. states or cities have also been used. Individual works are in turn listed alphabetically under each heading and include: title; place & date of publication; edition designation; number of volumes, when more than one; size, binding, and condition of binding; descriptive material, limitation notes, and the sale record — auction house (in code), date or number of sale, lot number, price, and purchaser (buyers' names are given when and as listed in price lists). There are cross-references to Club or Press books, to books bound together, and to books by more than one author.

Volume 88 lists only those books and manuscripts which sold for at least $50 or its equivalent in another currency. In keeping with previous editorial policy, auction lots consisting of groupings of miscellaneous volumes are not listed, for the prices realized by such lots can give no accurate indication of the value of individual items. Similarly, listings of badly broken runs or seriously incomplete sets of printed books do not appear. Listings of books in non-Western languages realizing less than $100 have been selectively excluded, as have such peripheral works as printings of musical scores, collections of plates, and panoramas.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Listings of 20th-century books frequently appear without format or binding information. In such instances it may be assumed that these books are octavo or duodecimo and bound in cloth. Items which are sold by auction houses "as a collection of plates" or which are deemed to be merely bound prints rather than books are excluded from these pages, especially when these items are sold in frames. Considerable effort has been made to secure price lists for all of the relevant sales held by the auction houses listed herein. We make great efforts to be comprehensive, but not all auction houses are equally diligent in sending us price lists, or equally responsive to our inquiries.

Thanks are due Jane Mallison for the entire autograph and manuscript section this season. Others who helped in various ways to bring this book to completion are Betsy Syrett, Ellen Liburt, Terry Ingram (who called our attention to the Clive Turnbull auction), Suzie Reardon, Pam Taylor, Abigail E. Leab, Constance M. Leab, David Reardon, and, finally, Edwin V. Halbmeier, who proofread most of Volume 88 for us. We are very spoiled when it comes to the production of this book, for we have Bill King and Joe Dupre of Inforonics, Audrey Smith of Columbia University Press, Joel Rothman of Advance Printing, and Marjorie Auber of Maple-Vail, all of whom save us from bad things, and occasionally even from ourselves. Great thanks to them all.

Currency

The highs and lows of other currencies in the 1981-82 auction season expressed in terms of the value of one American Dollar were as follows: Canadian Dollar, 1.18 to 1.28; French Franc, 5.58 to 6.84; Dutch Florin, 2.44 to 2.72; Swiss Franc, 1.80 to 2.10; South African Rand, .97 to 1.14; Australian Dollar, .86 to 1.00; and German Mark, 2.22 to 2.45. The Pound Sterling ranged from $1.75 to $1.92. Please note that these figures are meant as somewhat simplified approximations of the currency fluctuations throughout the period, designed to give our readers a good, clear idea of these fluctuations, but not an absolutely precise bank rate.

Buyers' Surcharges

The following buyers' surcharges should be noted: in Monaco 11%; in England, 10% except at Christie's South Kensington; and in the United States, 10% except at Hanzel.

AUCTION HOUSES

The sales recorded in this volume are from the auction houses listed below and are designated by code letters. On the following pages are a list of the season's sales from each house and a record of the named consignors of merchandise.

Selected Books and Prints

THE AUCTION SEASON

Volume 88 of American Book Prices Current is a big book, with some 315 sales, a whole clutch of new auction houses, and about 35,000 entries. And some experimentation is evident. To serve our readers better we have included not only such special sales as the Clive Turnbull Australiana Collection (Leonard Joel, Melbourne), the Library of Bob Luza (A. L. van Gendt, Amsterdam), and a superb collection of modern illustrated books (Ader, Picard, Tajan, Paris) but also selected lots from some German, Swiss and Dutch sales. In doing the latter we are not trying to compete with Jahrbuch in any way; rather, we are trying to extend our range of information about books and their prices. This year we have dipped our toes in the water and have included selected lots from Sotheby and Christie sales in Munich, Zurich, and Amsterdam, and a sprinkling of lots from such German houses as Hauswedell & Nolte, F. Dörling and Hartung & Karl. We will be interested to see what our readers have to say about this sort of extension: your response will in large part determine our policy.

It is somewhat difficult to characterize the 1981-82 auction season except to note that the record shows it to have been a better season than it seemed as it was in progress. Unusual books did unusually well, as did such subject areas as Australiana, mystery, science fiction—in fact, all “enthusiast” areas. It was a year in which the original drawing for the east-west portion of the map setting the Mason-Dixon line sold for $360,000, in which many ordinary books sold rather badly, and in which too many books were sold lotted up (or even lotted up and unsold). It would seem that some auction houses need to figure out how to cut overhead so that they can sell lower-priced books individually. In these times few dealers can afford to take on a whole carload of books and cull for the few marketable items. And the auction houses have something of an unexpected supply problem, for the Great Library Deaccessioning Movement, much touted in some quarters, simply has not gotten underway, or at least not on the scale envisioned by many librarians, collectors, and dealers.

Despite these problems, the very size of Volume 88 attests to the continued good health of the antiquarian book market and of the auction market in this area in particular.

This season also saw some unexpected controversy which grew out of one of the descriptions in the Catalogue of Twenty Western Illuminated Manuscripts from the Fifth to the Fifteenth Century from the Library at Donaueschingen, sold at Sotheby's in London on June 21. We quote without comment from the description of lot 15, a Book of Hours (probably Haarlem, c.1430), under the subheading “Printing in Haarlem in the 1430s”:

One of the oldest and most foolish bibliographical legends is that the art of printing was not invented by Johann Gutenberg in Mainz around 1450 but by one Laurens Coster in Haarlem around 1430. There is a brief allusion to pre-Gutenberg printing in Holland in the Cologne Chronicle, 1499, and the claim gained popularity from the second half of the sixteenth century and has been raised, with decreasing conviction, ever since. Books hopefully ascribed to Coster, a Speculum, Donatus fragments, even whole blockbooks, have all proved to be of later date and, in the total default of any surviving evidence of Dutch printing before the second half of the century, the claim has been properly dismissed. It can be regarded as a fact that Laurens Coster did not print books in movable type in Haarlem in the 1430s.

Even legends, however, can contain a grain of truth. Since the present manuscript can be ascribed to the northern Netherlands, probably Haarlem, c.1430, it is worth re-examining the exact nature of the Coster story. The first specific claim is by Dirk Volkerstszoon Coornhert (1522-1590) who wrote that "Boecprinten . . . in een seer ruyde maniere" was devised in Haarlem and that, before it was perfected, it was pirated and refined by the "onghetouwe knecht," Gutenberg in Mainz (J. Poortenaar, Coster—niet Gutenberg, 1947, pp. 63-4). Junius, writing c.1568, says that Laurens, son of John Coster, lived at Haarlem "more than 128 years ago," i.e. around 1430, and we are told that he invented stamped letters for making books and that he died before the new art was perfected and that his servant carried the idea to Mainz. Later accounts, all based apparently on local oral tradition, even name the wood where Coster is said to have cut his letters. All one can really say of the claim is that there was an old tradition that (1) stamped letters in some very crude form were used in the making of books in Haarlem, c.1430; (2) the letters were cut in wood; (3) that their maker died suddenly and the art was never perfected; (4) that the idea was seen and developed in Germany.

One can also observe about the present manuscript that (1) it contains stamped letters of the alphabet and it was made in Haarlem, c.1430; (2) the fuzziness of the letters and the difficulties in stamping by any other means suggest that they were cut in wood; (3) the prolific workshop operated c.1420-30, perhaps 1435 at the latest, and then suddenly ceased operation, and the style is not continued or similar marks used in any other workshop; (4) the workshop exported its books, the present one (for instance) going to Germany.

Have typographical historians, seeking Costeriana, been misled by the products of the sophisticated printing-shops of Mainz into seeking whole books in printed type instead of stamped letters crudely used in the making of manuscript books? If so, the Master of Nicolas Brouwer may be Laurens Coster, and the most famous legendary claim to one of the greatest of all technological inventions is vindicated for the first time. The present volume is some twenty-five years older than the Gutenberg Bible. Whether or not it is by Coster, it may represent the oldest example of printing in Europe.

The manuscript in question here sold for £20,000 to Elte. Interestingly enough, this statement provoked far less public comment than did a controversy about the coloring of bird books (and is contemporary coloring necessarily better?), which even cropped up a number of times in the pages of the English satiric magazine, Private Eye.

But enough food for thought. Without further ado, here is Volume 88 of American Book Prices Current.
